Executive Vice President, Chief Policy and External Affairs Officer, and General Counsel, CVS Health

Thomas Moriarty is Executive Vice President, Chief Policy and External Affairs Officer, and General Counsel for CVS Health, a position he has held since March 2017. In this role, Moriarty leads the company's external affairs programs, including the policy, government and public affairs, corporate communications, and legal and regulatory teams.

Moriarty brings his past experience of impacting and shaping national and state-specific public policy to his current responsibilities. He is keenly focused on promoting the company's role in reshaping a health care industry that is more accessible and affordable, and that delivers better outcomes for patients.

Moriarty joined CVS Health in 2012 and since that time has held several senior roles, including General Counsel, Chief Strategy Officer, and chairman of Red Oak Sourcing, Inc. the global generics sourcing venture CVS Health formed with Cardinal Health. Prior to CVS Health, Mr. Moriarty most recently served as General Counsel at Celgene, a biopharmaceutical company, where he was responsible for global legal strategy and served on the company's management committee. Prior to that, he worked for 12 years at Medco Health Solutions where he served as General Counsel, Corporate Secretary, President of Global Pharmaceutical Strategies, and led the M & A and Corporate Development functions. He began his career at the law firm of Mudge Rose Guthrie Alexander and Ferdon in New York.

Moriarty received his law degree from the University of Virginia School of Law and his undergraduate degree from Lafayette College.
